This research is a content analysis research. The main objectives of the research are to: (1) discover whether Bahasa Inggris for 1st grade Senior High School Students meets the characteristics of good English textbook; and (2) find out whether Bahasa Inggris for 1st grade Senior High School Students contains scientific approach or not.

This study is a content analysis research and was carried out at SMA N 7 Surakarta. The technique to find out whether the textbook fulfils the criteria of good textbook or not the researcher using questionnaire and interview. Two evaluators from SMA N 7 Surakarta were asked to evaluate the textbook using the selected criteria. The evaluators were asked to fill out a questionnaire. In addition, they were interviewed. The students from SMA N 7 Surakarta were asked about their impression about the textbook by a questionnaire and interview. Lastly, the researcher made conclusions that were made based on the data analysis result. The procedure used to find out the implementation of scientific approach is adapted from Elliot and Timulak (2005) which comprises: data preparation, delineating and processing meaning units, finding an overall organizing structure of the data, generation of categories, abstracting the main findings.

The findings of this research are: (1) Bahasa Inggris meets 2 of 6 criteria of good textbook. It means that there are 4 criteria that are not fulfilled by Bahasa Inggris, they are: language skills, language component, content and design/layout. (2) The implementation of scientific approach in the textbook is 80% and it is classified as “good”. The detail in every chapter gains score 80%.
